

EXAMPLE INFOGRAPHIC: PARKING

Chump change

Surprise, surprise: Buying parking minutes in bulk will save you some change. See how permits and meters on campus stack up to city parking options.

PER HOUR

City street meters: 60 cents
 City garage meters: 50 cents
 Uncovered city garage permits: 32.5 cents
 Covered city garage permits: 37.5 cents
 Reserved city garage permits: 57.5 cents
 City lots: 32.5 cents
 MU street meters: 75 cents
 MU meters in garages: 60 cents (some visitor meters $1)
 MU student commuter permits: 9 cents
 MU garages (student permits): 13 cents
 MU lots (student permits): 11 cents

PER DAY

Uncovered city garage permits: $3.25
 Covered city garage permits: $3.75
 Reserved city garage permits: $5.75
 City lots: $3.25
 MU student commuter permits: 75 cents
 MU garages (student permits): $1.05
 MU lots (student permits): 90 cents

PER MONTH

Uncovered city garage permits: $65
 Covered city garage permits: $75
 Reserved city garage permits: $115
 City lots: $65
 MU student commuter permits: $15
 MU garages (student permits): $21
 MU lots (student permits): $18

Ticket or leave it

Breaking the parking rules gets you a golden parking ticket. It seems like drivers are getting ticketed at every turn, but which entity, MU or the city, hands out more tickets? Parking supervisors, Michael Sokoff from MU and Tanner Morrell from the city, gave us their stats. The numbers speak for themselves.

Color me coinless

All those colored meters aren't just aesthetic. Each color corresponds with the parking time allowed for that space. Limiting meter minutes gives everyone a shot at those prime parking spots downtown. Feeding meters — adding time to a meter past the maximum hour limit — can get you a ticket. Here's how many hours each color allows you to relax ticket-free:

