TWO-VOICE POEM

A two-voice poem is meant to be read aloud. The two voices take turns reading a line and occasionally read a line together. See the poem below as an example for idea and structure.

Speaker 1	Both Speakers Together	Speaker 2
I like summer.		l like winter.
I like to throw beachballs and swim in the pool.		I like to sip my hot chocolate by the fireplace.
	When's the season gonna come?
I miss the sun.		I miss the snow.
	Oh, I can't wait!
I want to build a sandcastle.		I want to build a snowman.
	See you at dinner!

Use the graphic organizer below to compose a short poem from the perspective of the characters in your photo or other resource.

Speaker 1	Both Speakers Together	Speaker 2
I am		l am

Adapted from Northern Nevada Writing Project. (2008). Going deep with comparison and contrast thinking guide. Retrieved September 16, 2020, from http://www.writingfix.com/